13cabs, a better way to get around The Gong

Australia's largest taxi network 13cabs has arrived in Wollongong to deliver a better resourced and innovative taxi service for the community.

13cabs has begun introducing its distinctively branded fleet to provide Passengers with a better transport alternative in the city.

13cabs New South Wales General Manager, John Dulgaro said "The Gong is growing exponentially and the demand for a better cab service is truly high, so we're excited to be partnering with local drivers because it means we'll be able to better service the community and help get locals from A to B."

"The 13cabs app has been activated for Wollongong and we've got a great bunch of drivers from the local community ready to provide hassle-free service" says Dulgaro

West Wollongong local and 13cabs driver, Paul Lennon said "By tapping into the world-class resources of a national brand, I'm proud to be a part of a community of local drivers who know the city inside out. It's a win-win for the community and the economy here in The Gong".

Alongside a professional cab service, 13cabs also brings a contactless delivery service to the region for food, parcels and medical supplies through the launch of 13things. 13things provides local businesses and the community a service to get their essential and non-essential items instantly delivered.

"We're excited to provide locals access to Australia's most recognised taxi brand and, in turn, our innovative technology and safety standards" Mr Dulgaro said.

From today people can book 13cabs by using the 13cabs app or phoning 13 22 27.
